Marriage of Rev. Fred Wilcock and Miss Ruth Barber—Locals.
(Mrs. Ellen A. Staples, Correspondent.)

A very pretty church wedding occurred last Tuesday afternoon at the Methodist church when the pastor Rev. Fred Wilcock and Miss Ruth Barber of Sheffield were united in marriage by Rev. I. A. Ranney of Boston in the presence of about 125 people. The bride was dressed in white crepe de chine, wore a veil and carried bride roses. The wedding march was played by Mr. Wilcock of Fall River, Mass., the father of the bridegroom. Preceded by the ushers, Rev. Frank Oldridge and Rev. G. W. Keeling, the bride entered the church on the arm of her father, Frank Barber of Sheffield, and followed by the bridesmaid, Miss Ruth McDowell of Lyndonville, proceeded up the aisle, which was decorated with bouquets on each pew. At the altar they were met by the officiating clergyman, the bride groom, and the best man, who had entered by another door. The church was beautifully decorated with ferns and flowers and the bridal couple stood under an arch of evergreen studded with daisies. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the parsonage where ice cream and cake were served to 50 or 60 special guests. The wedding presents were numerous, beautiful and useful.

An Older North Star

John T. Ritchie is the owner of a North Star dated September 16, 1828. It is a most interesting sheet, yellow with age, and containing more religious literature than local news. At that time the anti-Masonic movement was at its height and much space is devoted to articles on that subject. The advertising is more local than the reading matter. The notice of the opening of the Caledonia County Grammar school at Peacham with a tuition of $1.25 a quarter, shows that an education is one of the things which has been affected by the present high cost of living. Board may be had from $1.00 to $1.25 per week. The patent medicines advertising include "Vegetable pulmonary balsam," "Volatile aromatic snuff," "Whitwell's original opodeldoc," and "Dr. Thayer's vegetable pill cathartic." The Columbian Guards were requested to meet at the Center Village for military duty and the reception of standard to be presented by Brig. Gen. Stephen Hawkins. Calvin J. Wright was captain of the company.
